Our Partnership

California State Parks and California State Parks Foundation work in close partnership to protect and enhance the state park system, but they serve different roles. California State Parks is the state agency responsible for managing, operating, and maintaining the parks, including staffing, public safety, and day-to-day operations. California State Parks Foundation is an independent nonprofit that supports the park system through fundraising, advocacy, and programs that expand access, protect natural resources, and engage the public. Together, the partnership helps ensure parks are both well cared for and supported by a strong community of Californians.

The Mission of California State Parks Foundation

The mission of California State Parks Foundation is protecting and preserving the California state park system, for the benefit of all.

The Mission of California State Parks

The mission of the California Department of Parks and Recreation is to provide for the health, inspiration and education of the people of California by helping to preserve the state's extraordinary biological diversity, protecting its most valued natural and cultural resources, and creating opportunities for high-quality outdoor recreation.
